

The Emory Center for Native American and Indigenous Studies and the Tam Institute for Jewish Studies present:

EMILY BOWEN COHEN

"TWO TRIBES: REAL LIFE STORIES OF A JEWISH NATIVE AMERICAN"

Emory University

Tuesday, September 16th, 4:00 PM

Jones Room, Woodruff Library (Level 3)

Emily Bowen Cohen is Jewish and a member of the Muscogee (Creek) Nation. She created the award-winning 2023 graphic novel Two Tribes. Copies of the book will be available for sale and signing following her talk.

This event is free and open to the public. It is sponsored by the Emory Center for Native American and Indigenous Studies and the Tam Institute for Jewish Studies with additional support from the Hightower Fund, the Fox Center for Humanistic Inquiry, Emory Libraries, the Carlos Museum, the Department of English, the Writing Program, and the Creative Writing Program.

